DUNLAP POLICE BILL DEFEATED IN STATE SENATE

However, O'Neill Women's Eight Hour Law is Passed

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 25.—Repealing the Dunlap police reform bill, the state senate today cast the proposal into the discard for at least two years more. The roll call was 23 to 25 the measure receiving three votes less than necessary for its passage.

The roll call was taken at five o'clock after four and a half hours of the most heated debate of any session of the senate. Thirteen members contributed the arguments, some speaking more than half an hour at a time.

Following is the roll call:
Republicans for: Bailey, Harbough, Boyd, Buck, Carlson, Dunlap, Eastington, Etzelson, Glenn, Gray, Hicks, Lantz, MacMurray, Mason, Meents, Mills, Roos, N. E. Smith, O. W. Smith, Swift, Turnbaugh, Wood, Wright. Total 23.

Democrats for: none.
Republicans against: Barr, Cuthbertson, Dalley, Duval, Forrester, Hainisch, Hamilton, Hanson, Jewell, Joyce, Kessinger, Marks, Schulze, Zeary, Snead, Telford, Vanlent. Total 17.

Democrats: Boehm, Carroll, Denver, G. H. Johnson, Glenn, Hughes, Piotrowski, Shaw, Total 8.

Total against, twenty-five.
Present and not voting—Webster, Republican.

Starting at 11:15 a. m. and continuing until five, with an hour's recess for luncheon, the senate deliberated on the constitutional proposal and finally, wearying of the reams of argument, disposed of it for the session. Some senators tonight said that "too much talk" caused the defeat. If a roll call could have been taken after an hour's debate, they declared, the bill would have passed by two or three votes.

Debate ranged from the political future of Governor Small to the loneliness of country housewives. Taking up the bill as a whole and in parts, Senators Dunlap, Jewell, Zeary, Gilberson, Snead, Swift, Denver, Telford, MacMurray, Hanson, Barr, Boehm and Glenn praised it or denounced it.

Senator Jewell declared the bill was "un-American" and militaristic and his associate asserted that it gave an opportunity for the governor to make of the state police force a political campaign.

Senator Glenn, when his name was reached on roll call denied the latter allegation and added: "Says Governor Is Done."
We all know the governor is done politically. There are not a half dozen men in this senate who will go to him and tell him he can be relied on."

Answering the statement of Senator Jewell that the state Republican party never had adopted a plank favoring the state police, Mr. Glenn said it was to the shame of the party. He declared stockades have been erected throughout the state from Chicago to Cairo and East St. Louis to protect law breakers when they pilage and murder.

Senator Barr challenged the contention of the bill's supporters that it was a measure in the interests of rural citizens, and said it was solely a move by the manufacturing interests to protect their property.

"We don't need state police," he said, "to keep farmers' wives from getting lonesome."

The Democrats, who voted solidly against the bill, as they did two years ago, stressed their allegation that it was "a big business proposition" and was not desired by the people of the state.

Senator Denver, minority leader, said that last week he had been visited in his Chicago office by men "worth a total of 30 million dollars" and been asked by them to vote for the state police. "It's a damned piece of legislation," he said, "that would place a heavy tax burden on the people, who most of the bill's opponents said were asking for tax relief."

TEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

HOUSE OF DAVID INVESTIGATION TAKES NEW TURN

Six Members of Colony are Denied Marriage Licenses

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 25.—The state's grand jury investigation of charges of immorality against Benjamin Purnell, head of the House of David colony, took a new turn today when six members of the sect were denied marriage licenses by order of Attorney General Andrew Daugherty. Later it was found another couple from the colony had obtained a license without the knowledge of the attorney general and were married last night.

While the disappointed couples were returning home subpoenas were hurriedly issued for three prospective brides and members of the state confabulatory and Sheriff George Bragman of Berrien county were dispatched to bring them before the grand jury. The officers failed to find them, but brought in Bessie Daniels, 18 years old, who was married last night to Emerald Woodward, and the authorities of the House of David colony promised to produce the other girls wanted to-night.

Mrs. Woodward, nee Daniels, like the four brides and grooms of last week's group wedding who had previously testified told the grand jury, that following her marriage last night she and her husband had violated the strict rule of the cult forbidding marriage relations between husband and wife.

None of the twenty-eight members of the cult who were married last week in group weddings on the eve of the state's investigation were questioned today, three former members of the Purnell sect and Mrs. Woodward occupying the entire day before Judge Harry Dingeman presiding judge of the Michigan circuit court, attending at the grand jury.

The three marriage applications rejected today were made by: James M. Wilson, 24, and Phoebe Robertson, 17, S. B. Martin, 30, and Marietta W. Smith, 20; Virgil D. Smith, 40 and Ruby Glover, 22. The attempt to continue group marriages with the colony despite the fact that the fourteen couples participating in last week's wedding have been subpoenaed before the grand jury, gave a new complexion to the inquiry and upset the plans of Attorney General Daugherty, Judge Dingeman and Assistant Attorney Homer Quay, who are conducting the investigation.

The attorney general's order holding up the marriage licenses is only effective for twenty-four hours, so a night session was immediately planned to question the girls before the applications for licenses are renewed tomorrow.

(By The Associated Press)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 25.—Formation of "some lasting organization of nations" to prevent war and to promote peace was urged in a resolution adopted late today by the twenty-seventh annual convention of the national congress of mothers and parent-teacher associations in session here.

GIVE ORDERS FOR DEPORTATIONS

Cologne, April 25.—The inter-allied Rhineland commission has issued an order that in the event of Karl Radek, and the young communists accompanying him enter the occupied area they are to be deported immediately. Special dispatches recently reported that Radek was being sent into the Ruhr to champion the cause of communism among the French soldiers.

CO-OPERATIVE BILL REPORTED FAVORABLY

Springfield, Ill., April 25.—The Lantz co-operative marketing bill, passed by the senate, was voted favorably out of the house agriculture committee this afternoon with minor amendments. Its friends will push for early action on the house floor, but its opponents are expected to wage a strong fight.

WASHINGTON IS COMMENTING ON HARDING SPEECH

Ranges from Open Opposition to Whole Hearted Approval

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—The reflex upon Republican leaders in Washington of President Harding's New York pronouncement on American membership in the world court became clearly national today soon after the return of the executive to the capital. It ranged from open opposition with warnings of a party split if advocacy of the world court membership was continued to wholehearted approval and endorsement with a middle ground suggestion of compromise.

Some leaders called at the white house during the day to convey their views to the president in person, others let their reaction to the executive's address be made known in formal public statements, and still others refused to go further than to discuss privately the impression made upon them by Mr. Harding's unequivocal commitment to the world court proposal.

The president during the day became acquainted with much of this reaction proposal upon party leaders here, in addition, received a large number of telegrams from leaders in various parts of the country. Most of these messages were said at the white house to convey an endorsement of the executive's stand.

Administration officials generally appeared to be satisfied with the reception accorded the president, but the president was observed with him to be somewhat disturbed by the opposition to the court plan as expressed in some quarters and as anxious to avert any division in the party. This anxiety, some white house visitors said, seemed likely to bring about cancellation of plans for his western speaking trip.

LaFollette Talker.
The most open disagreement with the president's stand for American adhesion to the world court protocol expressed publicly today was contained in a statement issued by Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, who ascribed to adversity of the proposal two motives "equally sinister and subversive to the best interests of the American people."

"In its first aspect," said Senator LaFollette, "this is a part of the cleverly conceived plan of international bankers to entangle the United States into the affairs of Europe so American money, American soldiers and American ships can be used to safeguard and protect their now almost worthless investments in the bonds, currencies and enterprises of the tottering nations of Europe. In its second aspect, the glorification of the world court is an attempt to draw a red herring across the trail of the great domestic issues and seek to save the administration and its supporting special interests from the wrath of an aroused and awakened people."

Endorsement of the president's stand as openly expressed were more numerous than the declarations of opposition. Representative Longworth, Ohio, and Irwin of Illinois, both of whom are candidates for Republican leadership in the next house, previously had endorsed in person to the president, and another white house caller, Irwin P. Morrow, Kentucky, assured the executive that the people of his state were back of the administration proposal.

Mr. Owsley advocated education of the present population "before more thousands are brought who would break down our over-taxed schools," and said that an effort should be made toward improving the physical condition of the immigrants.

BIG INCREASE IN U. S. TAX BURDEN

SUSPENDED DIRECTOR FAILS TO APPEAR

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—The tax burden per man, woman and child has increased from $24 to $54 in eight years according to deductions announced tonight by Dr. Walter E. Langerquist, professor of finance at Northwestern University. The deductions were for federal and local tax figures. With pensions, the care of soldiers interest and amortization of war debts there is little chance of very much reduction in federal taxes in the near future, professor Langerquist predicted.

He also said that thru tax discrimination there is being created a privileged class and that as a consequence earned income is obliged to shoulder the increasing burden, leaving unearned income free to escape taxation.

ST. LOUIS DOES NOT WANT CONVENTION

Cleveland, Ohio, April 25.—St. Louis is not a contender for the Democratic national convention in 1924, Charles F. Hatfield, general manager of the St. Louis convention bureau, announced here today. Mr. Hatfield said overtures made to him by party leaders had been rejected.

"The national committee asks a guarantee of $100,000 as a condition of holding the convention in St. Louis," Mr. Hatfield said.

"I'd rather use the money in attracting a lot of little conventions who will leave behind them ideas of a permanent value to St. Louis."

Ruthenberg Side of Case Presented

(By The Associated Press)
ST. JOSEPH, Mich., April 25.—A single sentence written by Charles E. Ruthenberg in an article published in the official organ of the communist party in October, 1921, was resurrected today by the state of Michigan in an effort to prove that Ruthenberg, charged with advocating criminal syndicalism, actually had counseled use of armed force to overthrow the American government.

The article, entitled "Soviet or Parliament?" said of the communist plans for seizing power: "And this includes the use of armed force."

The prosecution brought its case against Ruthenberg to a close with their reading of his own writings.

Frank P. Walsh, attorney for the defense, opened Ruthenberg's side by reading depositions taken at Philadelphia and Camden attacking the reputation for truth and veracity of Francis Morrow, state's star witness. Morrow, department of justice agent, attended the communist convention held near here last summer as a delegate.

The reading of Ruthenberg's article in The Communist was the outstanding point in the state's case. Attacking Morris Hill, New York attorney and socialist leader for advocating a socialist parliamentary form of government, Ruthenberg wrote: "The question of 'Soviet or

LEGION HEAD WARNS AGAINST APPEALS OF INDUSTRIAL BARONS

Says There is a Menace in Removing Immigration Bars

(By The Associated Press)
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 25.—Thoughtful men will examine with care "the appeals which industrial barons are now making for freer immigration," A. W. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion declared in an address tonight before the convention of the American Legion association.

"A well grounded suspicion is that they are more concerned with the class, servile and over-flowing labor market than with the human rights of the people involved," he said.

The American Legion is moved by no spirit of ill will toward the unfortunate peoples of other lands in advocating the stopping of all immigration for ten years, he said. "If the truth became known it is the most powerful force in the world today which would save these unfortunate from industrial slavery in the America of their dreams."

"The crowded misery of the Pennsylvania coal and steel districts speak strongly against the philanthropy of those who oppose the legion's stand. Where thoughtful industrial leaders would bring more foreigners to make matters worse, the legion would deal first with those who now constitute a menace to a government of sound public opinion."

Mr. Owsley advocated education of the present population "before more thousands are brought who would break down our over-taxed schools," and said that an effort should be made toward improving the physical condition of the immigrants.

HEAVY HOG SHIPMENTS TO SIOUX CITY, IOWA

Sioax City, Iowa, April 25.—More than 1,000,000 hogs have been received on the Sioux City livestock market this year. Records here show an increase of more than 400,000 head over the receipts at this date last year. The increase here is approximately 65 per cent, which is a greater percentage of increase than has been shown at any other livestock market in the country. The average percent of increase at the eleven biggest markets is 59 per cent.

DEFENSE IN MORSE TRIAL BEGINS TO OUTLINE ITS CASE

Second Subpoena is Served on Payne Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 25.—Events today in the Morse trial in the district of Columbia supreme court included the issuing of a second subpoena for John Barton Payne, newly appointed American commissioner to Mexico and former chairman of the shipping board; the conclusion of the opening statement of the government's case and a beginning of a reply by the defense.

Whether success of the subpoena for Mr. Payne to appear as a witness will delay his departure for Mexico City to confer with Mexican commissioners relative to American recognition of the Obregon government does not now appear.

The summons was issued at the request of counsel for the defense who called attention that Mr. Payne was about to leave the jurisdiction of the court.

The departure of Mr. Payne for Mexico City would in any event await the fixing of a date for the beginning of the second session of the United States and Mexican commissions. At the state department it was suggested that if his appearance in court some time hence would interfere with the carrying out of the mission entrusted to him by President Harding the court might expedite his examination. Mr. Payne is listed as a witness for both the government and the defense.

Concluding his opening statement to the jury, district attorney Gordon said evidence would be offered tending to show that $1,035,000 advanced by the government to the Virginia ship building corporation, a Morse concern, on account of ship construction had been converted to plant and housing construction in violation of the government contract. He asserted further that the government would undertake to show that $1,500,000 of a $2,000,000 bond issue which the emergency fleet corporation permitted the Virginia concern to issue on its plant had been "misapplied."

The district attorney stated also that evidence would be offered in an effort to prove that in the operation by Morse concerns of the government ships built at the Morse plants at Alexandria, Virginia, and Groton, Conn., upwards of $1,300,000 of government funds had been "diverted" in violation of trusts entered into by those companies.

TEXAS STORM DID LOTS OF DAMAGE

(By The Associated Press)
WICHITA FALLS, April 25.—The storm sweeping northwest Texas and southwestern Oklahoma late yesterday and early today had passed tonight.

In its wake, reports today followed which told of damage to railroads, highways, business buildings and dwellings running well into six figures; and on the other hand, of an ample rain supply of incalculable value to farmers, oil men and municipal and livestock water shortage.

The precipitation will average about two and one-half inches, over the section, it is estimated by weather officials.

At Jones a cloudburst estimated from five to eight inches, took away small sections of the Wichita Valley railway tracks, stopping all traffic, while at Stamford another water spout washed out sixteen hundred feet of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas tracks. Officials of the two roads said they hoped to resume train service tonight or early tomorrow.

At Henrietta, the point that the brunt of last night's terrific hail, rain and wind storm, a careful checkup today disclosed the damage at that point at approximately $100,000, consisting chiefly of losses of roofs and windows of residences and business buildings and a thorough soaking of merchants' stocks and fixtures.

So far no casualties have been reported. Unpaved highways, in this section, impassable tonight to motor traffic, are drying fast and with clearing skies and a light southwestern wind, and will be in condition again within 48 hours.

DAUGHERTY'S SON IN SANITARIUM

Stamford, Conn., April 25.—Draper M. Daugherty, of New York son of United States Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty is in the Stamford Hall sanitarium here on a voluntary commitment, pending action on a formal commitment proceeding in probate here.

Dr. Frank W. Robertson, superintendent of the sanitarium admitted that Daugherty was in the sanitarium, Judge Floyd B. Bartram of the probate court declined tonight to give out any information relative to the case.

DUKE OF YORK TO HAVE BLESSINGS OF WHOLE EMPIRE

Bride is One of the Most Popular of Kingdom's Girls

(By The Associated Press)
LONDON, April 25.—When Prince Albert, duke of York, leads Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon to the altar in Westminster tomorrow he will have the blessing of the whole British empire. His union with the young, untortured girl from the Scottish uplands, has struck a popular chord thruout the kingdom equalled only by Princess Mary's marriage to Viscount Lascelles. It is universally hailed as another bond between the crown and the people.

London's entire population has a carnival spirit for the glad event and hundreds of visitors from the British Isles and the continent have flocked to the capital and are vying with American tourists in celebrating the wedding in advance.

England's most talked of, and most envied girl spent the last evening of her single life in perfecting herself for the supreme part she will play on world's stage tomorrow and trying on her superb wedding gown. This afternoon she added nineteen pairs of silver and gold slipper and sandals to her trousseau. The Duke of York spent the last day of his single existence awaiting the paternal roof discussing final details of the wedding with the king and queen. Later he called on his sister Princess Mary and wished her many happy returns, for today was her birthday, and inspected the house which he will occupy with his bride after their honeymoon.

Today was only less momentous for the duke than his wedding day will be, the king honored him with the treasured Order of the Thistle, which is held only by a score of other Britons, and he was appointed senior grand ward of the united grand lodge of Free Masons.

London worked with feverish speed today to complete the finishing touches on the gala settings of the wedding. Five thousand decorative experts did their best to adorn the principal thoroughfares with the brightest raiment but their efforts were marred by the persistent rain and gloom which has enveloped the capital for the last twenty-four hours.

HEAD OF SYRACUSE U. PUTS OFFICIAL BAN ON STUDENT MARRIAGES

Is in Keeping With Action at Other Universities

(By The Associated Press)
SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 25.—Chancellor Charles Wesley Flint of Syracuse University today placed an official ban on student marriages.

"Marriage of any student enrolled in Syracuse University henceforth will be accepted as sufficient reason for withdrawal from the university," said the statement issued by the chancellor to the student body.

The ban was issued, the chancellor said, "in keeping with similar moves taken by other leading universities."

At a meeting of the deans of the various colleges of Syracuse University the general opinion was that student marriages are disruptive of academic enterprise and achievement.

Scholarship and matrimony do not mix in the case of undergraduates according to vice chancellor William P. Graham.

WILL THROW CHICAGO BACK THIRTY YEARS

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 25.—The movement against the sanitary district for diverting water from Lake Michigan, if successful, will throw Chicago health conditions back thirty years, into the dark ages of typhoid epidemics, harming thousands of citizens," Dr. Willis O. Nance, trustee of the district told the Chicago Medical society tonight.

This is a strongly entrenched and misguided movement, largely based upon the false promise that more water is diverted than should be permitted to conserve the best interests of the port cities around the great lakes," Dr. Nance said. "It is impossible for an engineer to prove from the lake level records that there has been any lowering of the lakes."

"Even admitting that the lakes have been affected, the district has offered a remedy more than adequate to the problem and controlling works at the outlets of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario. Such works can be built for $2,500,000 and would use power users at Niagara."

St. Joseph, Mo., April 25.—Billy Compton 2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Compton, was drowned here late today when he fell into a ten gallon jar of rain water while playing in the front yard.

RAIL EXECUTIVES PLEDGE THEIR AID TO SEAWAY PROJECT

Seven of Largest Systems go On Record at Chicago Meeting

CHICAGO, April 25.—Seven of the largest railway systems forming arteries of transportation through the upper Mississippi valley and the northwest thru their presidents and other executives today aligned themselves in favor of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway project as one of the best means of improving the national transportation situation.

The stand in favor of the seaway project was announced by the road officials here today at a meeting with the executive committee of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway project association, including membership from 18 middle western states.

The opening of the Great Lakes to ocean shipping, railroad officials pointed out, will give numerous large western systems serving immense territory westward, direct ocean terminals and will be a big step in accelerating freight movements to Europe and the east as well as clearing the way for necessary shipping to the eastern half of the United States.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence project must be taken into consideration in any national plan for transportation improvement association members said. This already has been brought to the attention of the interstate commerce commission in connection with its investigation of railway groupings in the central west.

Railroad representatives at today's meeting said the completion of the seaway would be a big step toward the fast handling of crops of the Mississippi Valley a section which they said had more claim to the title of the grainery of the world, than any other like section on the earth's surface.

The deluge of grain in the harvest season, with the seaway in operation would result in the shortage of cars which has felt last fall and in previous seasons to almost as great a degree.

Present at the meeting were W. H. Finley, president of the Chicago & Northwestern; S. M. Felton, president of the Great Western; Gentry Waldo, representing the Union Pacific; Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern; R. W. Clark, assistant to the president of the Northern Pacific; H. R. Safford, vice president of the Burlington and W. G. Bied, president of the Chicago & Alton.

Among the executive committee members present were president Charles Craig of Minnesota, H. C. Gardner of Chicago; Governor Warren McCray of Indiana; Gov. J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota, and former Governors Harding of Iowa and Goodrich of Indiana.

BANK ROBBERS FAIL TO GET CASH

(By The Associated Press)
BLOOMINGTON, April 25.—Four bandits who early this morning entered the State Bank at Belleflower, near here, and after three explosions escaped with the contents of one of the safes, got no cash for their trouble.

A number of bonds and valuable papers were taken, the value of which has not been computed tonight. The bank's currency was in the other safe.

An automobile stolen from a garage at the same time and which is supposed to have been used as a means of escaping was later found in Danville. Telephone wires leading to the town were cut before the robbery.

WARRANT FOR MURDER IS SWORN OUT

San Francisco, Calif., April 25.—A warrant charging murder was sworn out in the police court today for "John Doe" Richardson, said by the police to be Gladwell C. Richardson, alleged mad killer, who is held in Phoenix, Arizona, as the supposed slayer of Rabbi G. Lafee, of this city.

A THOUGHT

Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take counsel, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin.—Isaiah 30:1.

Wherever there is authority there is a natural inclination to disobedience.—Halliburton.

The story that Henry Ford may buy the C. P. & St. L. has not created a great deal of excitement in the cities and towns along that line for the very good reason that the people do not believe it.

"Put 'em up" that is the slogan that is being applied to both commodity prices and wages these days. If the ascent continues later on there will be the same dull thud that has been heard after other periods of irrational prosperity.

Arrests for gambling, reckless driving and various offenses continue in Chicago, under the direction of Mayor Devoy and the police department. The cleanup program will continue just as long as the action is backed by public sentiment. What the majority wants will happen.

Some idea of what conditions railroads have to meet is conveyed in the statement that back in 1908 the cost of a steel coal car was $1,100 and now the cost is approximately $6,000. To make any extensive repairs on a steel freight car now runs into a great deal more money than the car originally cost.

This fine weather, and increased automobile traffic is emphasizing the need for more parking space in the business district, or a re-arrangement of the plan. Those who have the parking space matter in hand cannot take too early action for congested conditions are at hand.

The state police bill was defeated in a close vote in the Illinois senate yesterday. The measure had its good points but its defeat will make no difference if some other means can be found of affording needed protection along highways and in some of the smaller towns so frequently invaded by bank bandits.

The government's fight against the sugar profiteers is on in earnest. Nevertheless, the sugar market has advanced since the proceedings were begun. This may indicate either that there is a shortage or else those in control of the supply are confident that they can successfully combat the government's charges.

An enterprising Chicago lawyer has discovered a decision of the Illinois supreme court in 1893, to the effect that any citizen can be drafted for civil duty. "The public has a right to the services of all the citizens," declared the judge, "and may demand them in all civic departments, as well as the military." That is a principle that would have saved the national government billions of money and heartbreaking delays had it been applied during the world war.

If Macon county people do not respond satisfactorily Mr. Staley should take a trip over to Morgan county. If there were any chance of establishment of a soy bean factory here there would be no trouble in interesting both city and country people in a project so beneficial to the community.

The communist, too, realizes that his most fertile field of effort is in

And then—then a girl comes along!

YOU'VE wanted to travel, to rove, and to roam
By mountain and valley and over the foam
Without any family waiting at home,
And marriage, you think, is "a chain and a thong,"
And then—then a girl comes along!

YOU'RE sore and discouraged, you're down on your luck,
You've lost all your pep and your vim and your pluck,
The crowd seems to trample you deep in the muck;
You cannot stand up at the clang of the gong,
And then—then a girl comes along!

the educational system, and the discussions of government incident to a presentation of the facts of American history offer him a ready opportunity of infusing his destructive theories into the minds of students.

The recent report of a special committee of the New York board of education shows that the danger is very real. The committee adopted a set of specifications with which they were agreed that a proper American history textbook should accord. Then they proceeded to analyze the books in use in the public schools of New York City. The results were astounding. The condemned books did not rely on direct misstatements of fact to convey their impressions, but by studied omissions, exaggeration of unimportant particulars, crafty phrasing, and selected quotations, the student was led to believe that the revolution was only a misunderstanding between nations with the blame attaching about equally to the Colonies and Great Britain, that the British were practically justified in impressing American seamen and that the war of 1812 was all a mistake, that congress has always been corrupt, and that socialist movements are making a stronger appeal to the thoughtful minds of the country.

THE WITNESS.

NEA.

In 1848 the country went wild over the three Fox sisters, of Hyleville, N. Y. They gave public seances in America and Europe—so-called spirit rappings and moving heavy objects apparently without touching them. The Fox sisters climaxed a wave of spiritualism that surged thru the American people.

Now we have a similar wave. Interest in psychic phenomena is so intense that the Scientific American is offering two prizes of $2,500 each for proof.

On a street car the other morning we overheard two men discussing things psychic. One of them, a Big Talker, snorted:

"The whole thing is fakery—bunk."

A stranger sitting ahead of him turned. Then this conversation:

Stranger—"Have you ever attended a seance? Have you gone to the libraries and read what the leading observers have written on subject? Have you thoroughly investigated?"

Big Talker—"Well, no, but I've heard a lot about it."

Stranger—"On what grounds, then, do you set yourself up as qualified to pass judgment? In court, a witness has to be an expert to give disinterested testimony on matters of medicine, business or science. The judge has to be an expert. So do the attorneys. Yet here you come along, with no knowledge of the subject except hearsay, and placidly pass judgment. I bet you don't follow the same rule when you buy diamonds. No, you go to a reliable expert."

This editorial is not a discussion of spiritualism or psychic phenomena of any sort, either for or against. But what the stranger on the street car had to say about expert opinion set us thinking that he had touched a common human weakness—the tendency to set ourselves up as authorities on subjects of which we are as good as ignorant.

Two men can almost come to blows, discussing the league of nations—Although neither of them knows his subject five per cent. They have picked up a bit of information here, a bit of information there, taken snap judgment and closed their ears to argument.

The value of expert testimony seems to be recognized only when we go to law, get sick or have a delicate piece of work to be done.

And we carry this tendency from our private lives into our national affairs—for instance, a committee of lawyers in congress is appointed to investigate and decide in a few months a subject that experts are unable to master in a lifetime. One eastern city even appointed a horse doctor as its expert in a gas supply row.

When two people discuss calmly, they are learning, both of them. When the conversation gets heated and argumentative, they're generally merely displaying their ignorance.

And we usually do our loudest arguing about things of which we are most ignorant. Vanity, precedent and snap judgment always and unbalance the reasoning power of the human intellect.

WM. BERRY CONFESSES TO CODY BURGLARY

Exonerates Brother, Who Is Released After Hearing Wednesday—Police Find Remains of Missing Articles

At a hearing in Squire C. O. Bayha's court yesterday afternoon, William Berry, colored, confessed to the robbing of the residence of W. D. Cody on West North street some five weeks ago. William's brother, Edward, who was arrested in connection with the robbery, was dismissed on the statement of his brother that he had had nothing to do with the affair. William Berry was placed under bond for $1,000 and on his failure to give bond, was committed to the county jail.

The articles taken by Berry from the Cody home were a dress suit, shoes and socks, a revolver, a pair of valuable cuff buttons, etc. When police searched the Berry home Tuesday, they found the dress suit and the socks and shoes, a discovery which led to the arrest of the two men. At the hearing yesterday, William Berry told Chief Kilgus where he could find the cuff buttons and the gun. The chief again visited the home and found the missing articles. The gun, however, proved to be a different weapon from the one taken from the Cody house. Berry stated that he had misplaced the other gun, and had secured this one to replace it.

Berry's case will come before the Morgan county grand jury at the May term of court.

MEETING OF W. F. M. S. HELD AT WHITE HALL

Large Number Attended Annual Group Meeting of W. F. M. S. of M. E. Church Tuesday—Others at White Hall News.

WHITE HALL, April 25.—The annual group meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church was held here Tuesday and it proved to be a large and inspiring gathering, the number of visitors exceeding expectations by a large majority. Morning and afternoon sessions were held. The morning session opened with devotionals led by Mrs. Port of Carrollton, followed with the opening talk by Mrs. Gates, the president. The welcome was delivered by Mrs. Mason of White Hall, to which response was made by Mrs. Ritchie of Greenfield. The treasurer's report was presented by Miss Beggs, and miscellaneous matters came up before adjournment for lunch.

The afternoon session opened at 1:30 with devotionals led by Mrs. Cole of Roodhouse, and there were five minute talks from the representative of each auxiliary. The vice president's report was presented by Mrs. Mason, and the report of the corresponding secretary was given by Miss Beggs. There was a reading by Mrs. Burns of Carrollton, and then a vocal solo by Mrs. E. C. Pearce of White Hall, who was accompanied by Mrs. Laura Pritchett. There were talks by visiting pastors, including Rev. Cole of Roodhouse, Rev. Symons of Rockbridge and Rev. Kirkpatrick of White Hall, and the proceedings concluded with a talk by Mrs. Anthony of Pleasant Plains, extension secretary.

It was mainly a conference as to accomplishments and objects, there being no officers to elect. The society comprises Morgan, Scott and Greene counties, and the event brought an interesting body of visitors to White Hall, who felt greatly benefited by the gathering.

The infant of Mr. and Mrs. Florence Haylin, residing in the south part of town, succumbed to spinal meningitis at 10 o'clock a. m. Monday, and funeral services were held in the Christian church at 2 o'clock today, the burial being in White Hall cemetery. The age of the baby was nearly a year.

The marriage of Charles Pierret and Miss Helen Kidd took place at Roodhouse Saturday evening, according to information just reaching the home friends of the groom. They will reside at Roodhouse where he is employed in a restaurant. He is the son of Nick Pierret of White Hall, and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kidd of Roodhouse.

Merchants Plan Meet. A meeting of local merchants will be held in the city hall next Monday for the purpose of hearing a talk by J. W. Griest of Chicago, manager of the Retail Merchants Institute. The objects of the conference will be set forth at that time.

A lecture course is to be conducted at White Hall next winter under auspices that seems destined to bring the institution out of the sea of despond into which it has floundered for several winters past. The course will be held in the new high school, beginning next November. The character of the offerings is reflected in the one lecture by Granville Jones, James M. Irwin, the veteran member of the dry goods firm of Smith, Irwin & Culver at Kane, has been calling on White Hall friends in an informal way. He has numerous friends here, and since the death of his wife seven years ago he has been getting more closely reassociated with old friends. His sister, Mrs. C. H. Black, has been very ill at Fairfield.

Plan Junior H. S. Meet. The selection of contestants is under way for the Greene county junior high school meet to be held at White Hall May 12th. This gathering will embrace all the four-year and the two-year high schools of the county, including Roodhouse, Carrollton, Greenfield, White Hall, Hillview, Patterson, Rockbridge and Kane, and is a much larger affair than the annual four-year high school meet. There will be between 200 and 300 contestants in athletics, divided into four classes. Class A embraces the four-year pupils, Class B boys of 100 pounds and over from the two-year schools, Class C all below 100 and class C open to all rural schools. The literary events are divided into two classes. The contestants from White Hall were chosen Tuesday night in a preliminary contest held in the high school, resulting in the choice of Virginia Childers in declamation, Lowell Cooper in vocal solo and Ruth Bauer in pianist.

Mrs. Doll Duncan will be here from Greenfield Saturday to meet with Miss Ruth Evans, the county secretary. Mrs. Duncan, county president, and the two ladies will proceed to complete arrangements. The track events will be held at Pine Grove, and the literary events will have to be held in two places at least. Judges will be chosen, and the big event will begin to crystallize rapidly following the results of Saturday's official conference. There will be forty events in athletics.

Lasting Satisfaction in the Hupmobile

Satisfaction is perhaps the one word which best describes the feeling of every Hupmobile owner.

Satisfaction—with the faithful way it performs the tasks he sets for it to do; with the fact that it requires next to nothing in the way of expert care and adjustment; with low costs that stay low all the year 'round.

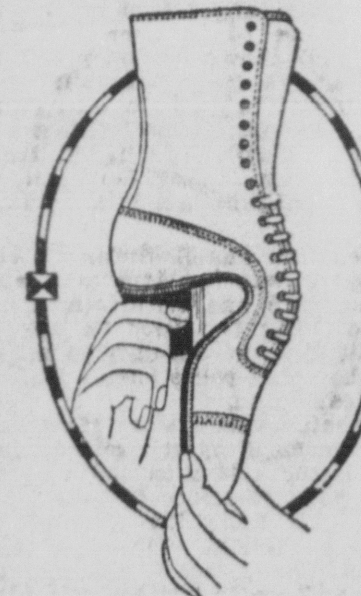

Satisfaction, in short, because the Hupmobile always does the things he wants it to do in the way he wants it to do them.

Energize Your Feet in Cantilevers

Can you swing along the street at a rapid gait, move swiftly about your work in home or office, or take a long hike with a feeling of joyous freedom, with no sense of foot weariness at the end of the day?

If so, you know what we mean when we say "Energize Your Feet in Cantilevers." You know that it can be done. That Cantilever Shoes allow the feet to grow strong, supple and healthy because the muscles can exercise naturally in walking instead of being restricted in stiff, board-like shanks such as ordinary shoes have.

Weak feet and fallen arches with their attendant pain and fatigue are unnecessary and can be avoided by wearing Cantilevers. Try them for yourself at once and learn the joy of possessing feet that are not lacking in energy.

Do YOU Lack Strength and Ambition?

Here Is Good Advice

Peoria, Ill.—"I can highly recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women. I had become all run down, weak and nervous and had no strength or ambition. I could not eat or sleep and suffered with backaches and bearing pains. I was miserable when my sister advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it has made me feel like a new woman. I can eat and sleep well, can do my work without feeling fatigued, and all the pains and aches have left me. Favorite Prescription has built up my entire system and made me strong."—Mrs. Harry Unes, 403 Steubenville.

Every woman, every man, can now have a face clear as a Rose-Petal! are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells! That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Blackheaded pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun,—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C's of medical science. Red-cells mean clear, pure, rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatic impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. Milwaukee, Wis.—"I feel that I ought to let you know about my case. I was ailing and could hardly do my housework and washing I was so run-down, just from having one child. I do every thing that comes along, and we all take your medicine as a tonic when we don't feel just so. I am thankful for what the Vegetable Compound has done for my health and for my family."—Mrs. MARY SAISCHICK, 944 23rd St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The Doctor Was Right

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

"Use Royal. It is made from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of teaspoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test mighty few baking powders can meet."

The doctor was right.

I Owe My Beauty

Largely to this white super-clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My youthful beauty is the marvel of millions. My complexion is as soft and rosy as 40 years ago. Not a line or wrinkle mars it. I could easily pass for 19. On the stage I still play young girls' parts.

Scores of my friends have secured like results by the methods I employ. They have multiplied their beauty and kept their youthful bloom. So I am convinced that women in general can do what I have done. And I am going to help them if they wish. I have arranged to supply to dealers everywhere the very helps I use. They have proved themselves the best helps in existence. Now I want them to bring to millions what they brought to me.

My 20-Year Clay

The chief reason for my youthful beauty is the use of facial clay. Not the crude and muddy clays so many use today, but a white, refined clay, wonderfully perfected. It is the final result of 20 years of scientific study.

Famous beauties have used clays for ages. That's what made them famous. But only in late years has clay been really studied. Countless tests and analyses have proved what clay is best—a certain rare clay, mineral-laden.

Ways have been found to refine it, to remove the useless mud. The clay I use is white and clean and dainty. And science has found some added factors which bring multiplied results. Any clay user will be amazed at the difference when she compares my Youth Clay with the old skins.

You Must Use Clay
Clay is essential to beauty at its best. Also to continued youth. No woman who omits it can hope to compare with women who employ it. Every woman must use clay in justice to herself.

Clay purges the skin of all that clogs the pores—the causes of sallow skin, blackheads and blemishes. It reduces enlarged pores, firms the skin, combats lines and wrinkles. It brings beauty of texture and contour.

It draws the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is that rosy afterglow which every woman knows.

The results are almost unbelievable at first. In a few minutes one seems to drop ten years. New bloom and beauty comes. And continued use brings what it brought me—decades of added youth.

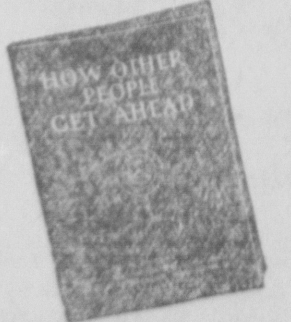

Don't neglect your clay. A glance will tell in any crowd the users and non-users. But ordinary clays will never show you what a clay can do. To every woman my White Youth Clay will be a revelation.

Edna Wallace Hopper's White Youth Clay is now supplied by all druggists and toilet goods dealers. Price, 50¢ and $1 per tube. Also my Youth Cream, based on lemon and strawberry. This should follow the clay. Also my Facial Youth—my famous liquid cleanser. Also my Hair Youth, which brought my luxuriant hair. My Beauty Book comes with each.

Go try my Youth Clay in fairness to yourself. If the first tube fails to amaze and delight you, your dealer will return the price. (adv.)

CUPBOARD

WHAT SHALL WE HAVE FOR DINNER?

A SIMPLE plum pudding which is nice to have on hand is the following:

Plum Pudding.—Take one quart of milk, nine milk crackers, one-half cupful each of molasses and sugar, one cupful of raisins, soak over night and in the morning add such spices as desired and steam four hours. Warm up as needed and serve with any pudding sauce.

Tapioca Pudding.—Take one tablespoonful of tapioca, the minute variety; one tablespoonful of corn meal, salt to taste, and one pint of milk mixed with one-half cupful of molasses. Bake and stir while cooking. Flavor with nutmeg or cinnamon.

This is the time of the year when water press is most enjoyed.

Water Cress and Grapefruit Salad.—Cut the stalks from a bunch of cress, carefully pick over to remove all discolored leaves and cover with cold water in which is dissolved a little salt.

Pare and remove the pulp from grapefruit, cut into small, thin slices. Put into a salad bowl with three tablespoonfuls of olive oil, two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, a little paprika and salt to taste. Mix gently, not to crush the fruit. At serving time put the cress into a bowl and swing vigorously to remove every drop of water, mix with the fruit and serve at once.

Tamales.—Boil a fowl until tender, salt and season with onion or garlic while boiling. Remove the meat from the bones and chop fine, add a bit of garlic and a generous quantity of cayenne pepper. Make a thick paste of corn meal, salt and boiling water. Form the meat into the size of a finger and incise each in the corn meal paste. Wrap each tamale in the inner husk of corn, tie with a strip of corn husk and drop the tamales into the chicken stock to cook. Add two or three Mexican peppers and cook fifteen minutes.

A hot soup on a cool night, a dish of scrambled eggs, or a rarebit prepared with tomato makes a good hot dish.

Why She Didn't Want Tea.
"No, thanks," said the girl emphatically, "no tea."
"Why not?" inquired her escort.
"No, I think I'll make it hot chocolate today."

"What's happened?" I thought your cup of tea every afternoon was one of the necessities of life. What made you give it up? Haven't they got the brand you like here?"
All the time they were at the table she kept him in suspense and then, when the last cookie had been eaten and his store of persuasive adjectives had been exhausted she said:

"Well, now that they put the tea in these little old bags there are never any leaves in the bottom of the cup to tell your fortune with, and that's what I liked about tea."

She Was Glad He Was Happy

By MORRIS SCHULTZ

"And when do you return, my lord?"
"Within a week. Wait for me, Lulu. I shall return without fail." But Lulu looked at him with troubled, questioning gaze, and her heart misgave her, though she said nothing.

It was three months since Darrell, her white man, had taken her from her father's village to reside over the little native house in which he lived while working for the company. During those three months she had come to love him.

Darrell, riding through the village, had seen the black-eyed maid leaning forth from a window in the women's quarters. Next day he had sent his servant to bargain for kohl and her nails with henna.

"Thou knowest, Moon-flower, he will send thee back when he is tired of thee, with a dowry, in accordance with the custom of the white men," they had told her.

Lulu said little. Her first week with Darrell was passed in a mixture of love and terror, lest she should displease him.

When she found he loved her, she let herself go. She feared no longer. She was happy and gay. She shed to his knee when he came back in the evening. She kept the house in spotless order. He had promised her some day to take her to his own country.

"For the girl I loved," he said, "was false to me, and is to marry another. I shall never love anyone but you, Moon-flower."

How happy she was! But one day going through some papers that Darrell had left about, she saw a photograph of the other girl—a beautiful girl in a large hat, with hair coiled all about her face.

She must be beautiful, if Darrell had loved her so much.

And a secret jealousy of the girl filled her, though she never dared to breathe a word upon the subject. And now, three months later, Darrell was to go away for a week. He was going to the big hotel, he had told her, to meet his chief, to stay there for a week and to discuss plans.

Moon-flower was very sad when Darrell went away. The girl from her village, who had come to see her, mocked her.

"He will never return, Moon-flower," she said.

Moon-flower did not answer. Days passed on. On the fifth day a letter came, written in her own speech which Darrell knew. He enclosed two hundred and fifty dollars, a princely sum, a dowry for a princess.

"I have received much money," he wrote, "and, as I am afraid of thieves in the hotel, I send it to you. Keep it till I return."

But not a word of when he would return. The other girl mocked louder.

"He will never return, blind Moon-flower," she said. "That is for thy dowry."

Moon-flower waited till the week was gone. Then, disguising herself as a beggar woman, with bare feet she took the long, long walk into the city, to the big hotel beside the water.

And all that day she stood outside the door, confident that Darrell could not know her, waiting patiently to see who came out, and who went in. But there was no Darrell.

She slept in a home for the poor, and at dawn next morning she was at her post again. And about the time of breakfast, Darrell came out, and with him were an old man and the beautiful girl in the big hat whose picture she had seen.

Darrell looked for an instant differently into her eyes and did not know her. Her heart nearly burst with anguish.

But he looked into the eyes of the beautiful girl, and she looked into his, and then Moon-flower knew.

She lingered near, for she understood a little of the English speech, and she heard the old gentleman say:

"We must hurry or we shall miss the boat, Darrell."

And then she understood, Darrell was going away to his own country, with the old man and the girl in the big hat. She would never see him again. And she was glad he was so happy.

Look at that queer little beggar woman!" the old man exclaimed as Moon-flower turned away.

"Heaps of them about these hotels," Darrell returned indifferently. Moon-flower took up the long walk back, but she did not stop at the house. She went to the village. The women would not mock her after they had seen her two hundred and fifty dollars.

BRUTE TAKES NO CHANCES

Elephant Can Be Relied on to Be Sure He Is Walking on Firm Structure.

To test the stability of a bridge or other kind of structure there is no delicate instrument or measuring apparatus which can compare in exactness with the sound judgment of Jumbo. Owing to his weight an elephant has to think twice before trusting himself to anything that is not perfectly steady and secure. This circumstance has developed in him a mysterious extra sense by which he can tell instinctively whether he is treading on safe ground or not. In a recent case of a newly erected garage floor, doubt of its strength arose in the mind of the owner, although the architect maintained that the floor was quite safe. To make trial of its firmness, five elephants were borrowed from a traveling menagerie, and led into the garage. If there had been the least unsoundness or flaw in construction the animals would have bolted in a panic the moment their forefeet touched the floor. However, without the least hesitation the first elephant walked forward, followed boldly by his four companions. The combined weight upon the floor amounted to nearly 28 tons. The owner was satisfied and the architect vindicated.

The Murderer
Returned

By CHARLES E. BAXTER

The story of Haunted Inn was widely known; sometimes travelers came to see it, drawn by that strange perverted curiosity that characterizes some people.

Yet the inn was not really haunted. A murder had been committed there twenty-two years before, and Lizzie Wilkins found it paid to tell the story to visitors, especially as her father, Ezra, had remained, as it were, denuded ever since. And never had he set foot outside the house since the night his brother died.

Of late years he had hardly ever spoken, but sat brooding beside the fire, his eyes fixed upon vacancy. This brought money. That stormy night the elderly traveler and his wife listened to Lizzie's story through the peals of thunder and the swish of the rain, agape. Here it is:

Twenty-two years before Ezra and John Wilkins had run the inn—then known as the Wilkins Inn—together, aided by Ezra's wife, Jane, the mother of Lizzie, and now dead. They catered to traveling men and farmers. The Wilkins brothers were supposed to have hoarded money.

One night Ezra Wilkins was—he claimed—awakened by a pistol shot. A cry. He leaped out of bed. As he opened the door of his brother's room a second shot sounded. By the light of the pistol flash—he claimed—Ezra saw the face of the murderer bent over his brother. He flung himself upon him—he claimed—but the man succeeded in escaping.

That was all; the murderer was never taken. Suspicion attached itself to Ezra, for—here Lizzie was discreet—"wicked stories were being told about Pa and Uncle John's sweetheart. They were all lies." But against this it was shown at the inquest that the brothers had never quarreled in their lives, had been extraordinarily devoted to each other. Neither was of a sentimental nature, both were hard, practical New Englanders—yet in some peculiar way they were devoted to each other.

Ezra said robbery was the cause of the murder. Nothing had been taken because John had awakened and grappled with the intruder. To receive his death shot through the head. "I'd know that face I saw by the flash to the last day of my life," Ezra declared.

"It was after that that Pa began to go peculiar," Lizzie explained. "Folks said he was grieving for Uncle John. That shows what wicked lies those were which said that he killed him."

For years now Ezra had sat by the fireplace. He seemed to understand what was being said but he often said nothing for weeks on end. He sat looking at nothing in particular, and yet seemed to be watching.

A ring at the bell; a tall man entered, clothed in an ulster. He was dripping rain. "Can you put me up for the night and give me a bite to eat?" he asked. "I'm a stranger in these parts, traveling to Lynn. I missed my train, and they told me this was the best place to stay."

"Surely," said Lizzie. She bustled upstairs, bringing out sheets for the bed. When she came down the newcomer was in animated conversation with the elderly traveler and his wife. They were talking about the crime. Lizzie joined in, and recounted part of the story she had already told.

"I sort of think sometimes he's seeing there waiting for 'Uncle John's murderer to come back," she said. "I remember when Pa used to talk. He said sooner or later the man that kills another always comes back to see the place. I sort of think Pa's got that on his mind, and that's why he's setting there."

The traveler laughed and looked at Ezra, whose dark eyes rolled vacuously.

"He'd find it pretty hard to swear to him after 22 years," he answered. "How did you know it's 22 years?" asked Lizzie.

"Why, this gentleman mentioned it," replied the other, turning to his elderly companion. The latter searched his memory to find if it was true.

"Mind if I light my pipe?" asked the younger man.

There came the splutter of a match; he bent his head over his pipe. The silhouette showed dark against the flame. Suddenly Ezra was out of his chair, his hands upon his wrists like gyres of steel.

"The face!" he screamed. "The face by the pistol flash!"

The other glared about him, writhed desperately, got one hand free to the pistol in his pocket; there followed two shots.

Ezra stood on his feet, his eyes-demoniac, watching the stumbling figure of the suicide crumple to the floor.

FARMERS IGNORANT OF FUNDAMENTALS

McLean County Farm Adviser Says Farmers of This County Shy of Fundamentals of Agriculture.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill.—Although McLean county is the second richest county in the United States in the value of farm property, there are hundreds of farmers in the county who are ignorant of the fundamentals of agriculture, according to H. Fahrkopf, county farm adviser.

In asking for support for the farm bureau, Mr. Fahrkopf declared that "in the past the farmer has been exploited because he has allowed it; in the future, the farmer will be exploited and then of his substance if he allows."

"There are hundreds of farmers in McLean county who are ignorant of the fundamentals of a successful agriculture," said Mr. Fahrkopf. "There is no small number of farmers attempting to raise and feed hogs who would be money ahead by not doing it, if they continue to follow their present methods. There are hundreds of farms with flocks of poultry that do not pay; hundreds of farms with unprofitable orchards; hundreds of milk cows in McLean county that are not paying their board; there are a great number of tenants and landlords that are not co-operating as they should co-operate."

"There are many landlords especially that need to show evidence of a higher regard for both the present and future agricultural conditions in McLean county."

Mr. Fahrkopf said during the coming year the McLean county farm bureau would emphasize adoption of the Illinois system of permanent fertility and more widespread practice of the McLean county system of swine sanitation.

How Long Should a Pair of Glasses Last?

No arbitrary rule of time can be fixed for changing lenses.

The action of nature itself only determines that.

Under certain conditions lenses have to be changed very frequently over quite a period of time. With others lenses may have to be changed once a year.

Wearing lenses beyond their period of usefulness puts the eyes under the same handicap as before the lenses were put in.

Regular eye examinations once a year are wise precautions.

TO CELEBRATE FOURTH WITH MATINEE RACING

Full Program of Races on Local Track to Feature Festivities—Proceeds Will Help Build Large Barn—Co in Mitter to Push Plans for Events.

A Fourth of July celebration that will open with a parade in the morning, center around matinee races at the fair ground in the afternoon, and close with an evening display of fireworks at the Jacksonville State hospital, was planned last night by a special committee which met at the Chamber of Commerce. At a meeting of forty men interested in horse racing, which was held later, it was decided to push the matinee races, and by the sale of tickets to this event, aid the Fair association to erect a new barn at the local track. The barn will cost $1,000 to $1,500 and will house fifteen additional horses. This will give permanent quarters on the grounds for about forty horses. The barn will also have room for an office and a wide hallway running thru the center of the building.

The special committee in charge of the Fourth of July celebration consists of Dr. G. H. Kopper, general chairman; J. W. Merrigan, B. F. Lane and M. E. Gilbert, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and L. A. Reid, H. E. Kitcher, J. L. Henry and Scott Green, representing the Fair association. Dr. E. L. Hill, managing officer of the State hospital, has promised to co-operate with the committee in staging the celebration, and will be responsible for the fireworks in the evening.

Scott Green, superintendent of speed of the Morgan county fair, is planning to boost the sale of tickets for the matinee races. He will appoint an executive committee to handle this matter, and the work will be put under way immediately. A full program of races for the afternoon of the Fourth will be provided. In addition to four regular races, it is planned to put on a running race, pony race and mule race.

A band will be hired for the entire day. It was decided at the meeting last night to ask the co-operation of the Automotive Dealers' Association in staging the celebration, especially the part in the business district in the morning. The committee is calling for as many decorated cars and trucks as possible, in order to make the parade one of the best ever held here.

AGED MAN REMEMBERS OLD CHURCH IN WILL

William Wilbrite, who Perished in Well Near Virden, Left $10,000 to Repair Church Near Little Indian—Building so Dilapidated, It Could Not Be Used for Funeral

Fate decreed that William Wilbrite, whose body was found last Saturday near Virden, should not be buried from the Old Zion church, as he had requested, as the church was in such a state of disrepair that it was not possible to put the $10,000 was provided to put the old church and cemetery in repair. The funeral of Mr. Wilbrite was held Tuesday near Little Indian, about ten miles north of this city. He had asked to have the service in Old Zion church; but when persons went to the building to arrange for the funeral, it was found to be in such a state of disrepair that it was thought advisable to plan the service elsewhere.

After the funeral, the will of the deceased was examined, and it was discovered that he had bequeathed the sum of more than $10,000 to be used in overhauling the old church and adjacent cemetery and putting both in an excellent state of repair. Mr. Wilbrite resided in the neighborhood of the Old Zion church for a number of years, the last few years of his life were spent in Virden, where he was prosperous in the meat business.

The deceased was 77 years of age. He was born near Old Princeton, Ill., where he spent his boyhood and youth. He later moved to a farm west of Jacksonville. About a year ago his sister, who resided with him in Virden, died, leaving him alone.

Sometime last week Wilbrite disappeared from his home. It was learned that he was last seen walking south along the right-of-way of the Illinois Traction System. Last Saturday his body was found in an abandoned well near the car tracks about a mile south of Virden. The deceased had one other sister, Mrs. Ed McCarty; but it is not known whether she is living.

COMMENT ON THE AGE OF OLD WELL

The uncovering of the old well on the site where the Elliott State bank is now being erected, has caused a great deal of public comment as to the age of the building, and how long the well has been dug.

All evidence seems to indicate that the building was built about the 1838, although there are unconfirmed rumors that it was built ten years prior to that time. Esquire Amos Henderson, who was born in 1840, states that the first occupant of the building, as far as he is able to remember, was Joe McKee, who ran a saloon there. The building was built in the form of a main building, and there was an attached building at the rear which was known as the annex. The second floor over the main building, was used as living quarters for Mr. McKee. The main floor of the annex was used as living rooms, for a time, and the upper floor was occupied for several years by a photograph gallery which was run by W. S. Tandy, who died on December 25, 1871. Mr. Tandy was the father of Mrs. John G. Reynolds, C. S. McCullough, now of the firm of Mollenbrock and McCullough, started to learn his trade under Mr. Tandy in that year, and worked in the studio continuously for eleven years, under Ellis Whitehead, now living in Jerseyville, who ran the studio for six months, and after that when a half interest was sold to Harry Suter, of Milwaukee. Mr. McCullough states that the well was in use in 1871, and that there was a pump upstairs to draw the water up.

At the time the building was used as a saloon, the Northern Cross railroad, now the Wabash railroad, came up West State street from a point near the present high school building, thru central park where the old market place stood and out East State street to a point beyond the school for the blind, where it changed over to the present right of way. The floor of the saloon was made of white oak boards, one by six inches, the last of which were removed by James A. Cook, 1011 South East street, only a few years ago. Mr. Cook furnished a great deal of interesting information, part of which was before his remembrance but which he had gleaned from conversations with the late A. R. Gregory. The reason assigned for the strong flooring was that in those days it was the general custom to ride into the saloon on horseback, and do their drinking while mounted, necessitating a good strong floor.

The depot, according to Mr. Henderson, was then in the market place, about where the monument in the park now stands. It has been rumored and is barely possible, that the well was used to supply water for the engines and passengers but this could not be substantiated. Mr. Cook states that the well was dug by Milo Swales, but is of the impression that it was not dug until after the removal of the railroad, in 1849. At the time Mr. Swales dug the well, there was a great deal of comment on account of the fact that a large crab apple root was found at a very great depth.

After Mr. McKee's saloon the next occupant was Ben Stephenson, who bought the building and ran a dry goods store, later selling out to Henry Ennis. In 1868 Mr. Cook remodeled the front and north side and he states that the pump was in the well at that time, and had evidently been for a good while.

In obtaining these facts regarding the building, a great many interesting facts regarding the first railroad were uncovered. The engines had immense smoke stacks and burned wood for fuel. When the residents of East State street heard the engine coming they would immediately fill their front with water and guard the front of their residences, in case the engine set fire to the houses. Even after the railroad was moved to its present site, the switching was all done by a yoke of oxen.

It may be that the old query, "how old is Ann," will be replaced by "how old is the well."

LIFE JOURNEY ENDS FOR W. L. ALEXANDER

PROMINENT CITIZEN PASSED AWAY WEDNESDAY NOON

Deceased had been ill for Many Months and End Was not Unexpected—Long Active in Business Life of City.

Death came shortly after noon Wednesday to William L. Alexander, long prominent in the business and public life of Jacksonville. Mr. Alexander had been in failing health for about a year, and with characteristic courage made a brave fight against disease and until a comparatively short time ago believed that he would be restored to health.

Practically all of Mr. Alexander's life had been spent in Morgan county, and he had been a conspicuous figure in Jacksonville for more than thirty years. Although he left the city for a period of years, to engage in business in Corydon, Iowa, Mr. Alexander always counted this city as his home. He was intensely loyal to the city and always said that no matter where else he might go that eventually he expected to return here, at last for the later years of his life.

His faith in Jacksonville was manifested by his real estate investments and returning from Iowa a few years ago at a time when business was at a comparatively low ebb, he did not hesitate to invest his money, with the belief that values would increase and business conditions grow better.

The enthusiasm and industry which Mr. Alexander put into his business accounted for his success, and it is a matter of record that he made any business to which he turned his attention profitable. Meeting difficult conditions and solving problems in connection with his business seemed a matter of pleasure to him, and so his enthusiasm in business and faith in Jacksonville were especially noteworthy.

For a period of years Mr. Alexander was associated with the late J. J. Mallen in a store room in the Strawn block under the firm name of Alexander & Mallen. Subsequently Mr. Alexander became proprietor of a house furnishing store, as the successor to J. H. Osborne, located in the building now occupied by the Hopper shoe store. Later he established the department store in the Wadsworth building under the name of W. L. Alexander Mercantile Co. These business ventures occurred prior to his removal to Corydon, Iowa, where he had extensive land interests in addition to a department store.

After disposing of his Iowa holdings Mr. Alexander was for a year or more in Chicago, but during that time made frequent visits to Jacksonville with the purpose of again entering business here. After again locating in this city Mr. Alexander erected the Alexander apartment at 857 West State street, and purchased and enlarged the store building at 13 West Side square, which now houses the Alexander Hardware store. He was at one time the owner of the Grand Opera House building and also owned other Jacksonville real estate. His investments also included farm property in Orleans precinct.

Ever since the days of young manhood Mr. Alexander had been interested in politics and he was a Republican with deep convictions. He believed his party was founded on the right principles and he evidenced his belief in the party organization by his thoroughness in organization work. He became a prominent figure in both county and state Republican assemblies and was on terms of friendship with numerous party leaders.

At the election last fall, although in weakened condition because of his illness he insisted on going to the polls and in this way not only manifested his interest but fulfilled his ideas of the duty of citizenship.

The deceased had for many years been a member of Central Christian church. He was identified with various fraternal orders, holding membership in Harmony Lodge No. 3, A. F. & A. M., Jacksonville Chapter R. A. M., Hospitalier Commandery Knights Templar.

He also was a member of the Mystic Shrine in Peoria and the Peoria consistory of Scottish Rite Masons. He was also one of the early members of Jacksonville Lodge Knights of Pythias, W. J. Bryan being the Chancellor Commander when he took the work.

Mr. Alexander was a man of decided opinions and views. The word "pussyfoot" was not in his vocabulary and those who knew him on terms of intimacy came to admire the sincerity of his mind and his vigor in defending his position when once taken. He was direct in word and action, a man who could be absolutely depended upon. His strict ideas of business integrity were maintained throughout all his life. When the days of illness came Mr. Alexander developed a patience that was borne of indomitable will and thru all the months of weakness no fretful word passed his lips. He was optimistic and hopeful almost to the end, and truthfully it can be said "he fought a good fight," and played the game of life squarely.

Mr. Alexander was born in May 1836 in Sodus, Mo., the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Alexander, prominent among the early residents of Morgan county. The family home was in Alexander precinct where the father had extensive land holdings.

As a young man Mr. Alexander was married to Miss Clara Greenleaf, who survives him together with three children: James G. Alexander, vice president of the Central Trust Co., of Chicago;

Telephone Talk No. 14

"Telephone Operators Have Rush Periods, As Others Do Who Serve the Public."

The telephone company has rush periods just as have the street cars, the stores, the banks and the stamp window in the post office.

A man will wait in line patiently several minutes to make a deposit in a bank, to buy postage stamps, register a letter, buy a railroad ticket or a seat in the theatre and make no complaint. But if occasionally he has to wait twenty seconds for a telephone operator he feels greatly misused and condemns the service unsparingly.

Let us put a frank question or two to oneself:

"Does any other company or store in town wait on me with such uniform promptness, or cause me so little direct loss of time, as does the Telephone Company?"

"Can I get the service of a street car, a clerk, a salesgirl, a cashier, or of anyone else nearly as quickly, whenever I want it, as I can that of a Telephone Operator?"

"When I push the buzzer on my desk for the stenographer or the messenger, do they always come immediately?"

OBITUARY.
Clara May Rimbey was born in Kansas, August 26, 1882, and died at Warsaw, Mo., April 17, 1923, being 40 years, 7 months, and 21 days old at the time of her death.
Her mother dying when she was three days old, she was raised and educated by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Rimbey.
She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Rimbey.
She was educated in the public schools of Murrayville and Illinois Woman's college at Jacksonville, Ill.
She taught school in Morgan county, Ill., up to the time of her marriage.
Deceased professed religion and united with the M. E. church at Murrayville in 1898, and at the time of her death her membership was in the M. E. church at Warsaw, Mo.
She was a devoted member of the order of the Eastern Star and at the time of her death was Worthy Matron of Osage Valley Chapter, No. 502, O. E. S. at Warsaw, Mo.
She was active in church and missionary work and in school work serving a term on the board of education of Warsaw high school.
Deceased was married in 1911 to Dr. James A. Logan and in 1913 removed to Missouri where they have since made their home.
She was a devoted wife and while she had no children of her own, she was a very devoted and loving mother to her stepson, Eugene.
She had a host of friends in Warsaw and Benton county, Mo., as well as at her old home.
She leaves to mourn her departure a husband, a stepson to whom she was a true mother, a father in California, five half brothers and a host of other relatives and friends, also an aunt, Mrs. Emma Warcup, who assisted her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Rimbey in caring for their little grand daughter and to whom Clara was as dear as an own child.
Her fatal illness was of very short duration and her death came as a great shock but all must bow to the grim reaper and our loss is her eternal gain.

How Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription Banished His Kidney and Bladder Troubles

Dr. Daniel G. Carey, Elmira, N. Y., "I want you to know so that you will be able to tell the whole world just what your wonderful prescription has done for me. I was confined to my bed for 26 weeks. At the end of that time my family called in Dr. Carey to see what he could do. He at once prescribed his Marshroot Prescription No. 777 with the result that I am now, after a few weeks treatment, up and around, able to dress myself and attend to my personal wants. I have been out riding several times, doing my own driving. My kidneys and bladder are acting perfectly; my blood is fast assuming its natural color; my appetite is strong and natural and instead of being in my grave as everybody prophesied, I am alive and on the 'highway' toward renewed health, thanks to Dr. Carey and his wonderful medicine. Most grateful of yours, J. V. Van Atta, Elmira, N. Y."

NOTE—Dr. Daniel G. Carey is the well known kidney and bladder Specialist of Elmira, N. Y. His great prescription, Marshroot 777, he declares has helped thousands of similar cases. It is not a patent medicine and is only sold through drug stores to accommodate his patients. You can always get this effective prescription at Coover Drug Store and all reliable pharmacists the country over. (adv.)

SCOTT COUNTY WOMAN
LAID TO REST TUESDAY

Funeral of Mrs. Frances S. Carpenter held at M. E. Church in Oxyville—Other News from Bluff and Vicinity.

Bluffs, April 25.—The funeral of Mrs. Frances Sherwood Carpenter was held at the M. E. church in Oxyville at 4 o'clock p. m. Tuesday with the Rev. E. T. Palmer in charge.

The music was in charge of Mrs. A. V. Pyle, Miss Vera McCaleb, Messrs. Henry Pinkerton and P. C. Burrus with Mrs. E. T. Palmer at the piano. The flowers were in charge of Mrs. A. V. Pyle and Mrs. Vera McCaleb.

The bearers were Messrs. E. G. Gray, O. A. Woodson, Henry Pinkerton, William McLaughlin and Lloyd House. Interment was made in the Oxyville cemetery.

Obituary.

Mrs. Frances Sherwood Carpenter passed away at her home in the south part of town Sunday evening, aged 83 years.

Deceased had spent the greater part of her life in Oxyville where her husband, Jack Carpenter, was engaged in the mercantile business until his death in 1914. She with her son, John, moved into Bluffs about twelve years ago, where she resided until the time of her death.

Deceased was a faithful member of the M. E. church of Oxyville and during her long residence there seldom missed attending church services. Besides her husband, one son, John Carpenter, has preceded her in death. She is survived by one son, Eugene Carpenter, and one sister, Mrs. Lucy Schnell of Yates Center, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. White were called here from Kookuk, Iowa, by the death of the former's aunt, Mrs. Frances Carpenter. The sister, Mrs. Lucy Schnell, of Yates Center, Kan., was also called here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lake and family have returned from Quincy where they were called by the death of Mrs. Lake's mother, Mrs. Lucy Innes. The circumstances surrounding her death were peculiar. Mrs. Innes had gone two blocks from her home in reply to a newspaper ad in search of baby chicks and in ascending the basement stairs fell forward breaking her neck. Death was instantaneous. The son came home in the evening and finding his mother gone learned of an accident in the vicinity and went to the morgue where the unidentified woman was found to be his mother.

The sad accident was a great blow to the family. Mrs. Innes was 67 years of age.

George York of Oxyville, a former resident of Bluffs, is at the point of death at the home of his brother, Cordell York. For a number of years he has been a sufferer from cancers on the face.

John Pine has returned from St. Louis where he has been a business visitor for several days. He has taken over the agency for the Chevrolet. John is a hustler when it comes to selling cars. Clarence Castle has taken over the Ford agency.

Mrs. Thomas Reid was a business visitor in Springfield Tuesday.

Miss Pearl Rockwood left for a few days' visit with relatives in Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw of Ft. Wayne, Ind., are guests of friends in town.

Miss Agnes Little, John Pine and daughter, Adeline, were callers in Chapin Tuesday afternoon.

Bluffs school will be represented at the track meet in Chapin Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Helen Massey spent the week end with relatives in Franklin.

Work shoes $1.98, dress shoes $4.85. Hopper's.
